

Veera Bobrova, PhD student

I graduated as a MSc in pharmacy in 2017 from University of Tartu, Estonia and continue my studies as a PhD student since September 2017 at the same university. My PhD thesis entitled Multi-dose drug dispensing in optimising the medication of older patients is devoted to identification of potentially inappropriate medication use of those patients have initiated medication multi-dose dispensing (MDD) service. For those patients, medication review before service enrolment and during MDD service is crucial and should be included to MDD service package. At the moment, I am working as a pharmacist in the community pharmacy in Tartu.
